KEYSERLING AND LUDWIG

Count Keyserling of Germany, philosopher, refused to break bread at the Hearst house, with Emil Ludwig, of Germany, biographer. The features about these two men which have been projected into the foreground as a result of the little misunderstanding are the facts that Ludwig is a Jew, and Keyserling is a devoted son-in-law of a dead mother-in-law.

Ludwig maintains stoutly that Keyserling snubbed him only because he, the snubbed one, is a Jew. Neither had any objections to tasting Mrs. Hearst's sandwiches at tea. But Keyserling, bearer of a German title, would not do any munching in the company of a Jew.

Keyserling warmly refutes the charge of anti-Semitism. He would eat anywhere, anytime, and with anybody. But he could not bear to swallow nutriment in the presence of the man who insulted his beloved mother-in-law. People who are disrespectful to the female progenitors of wives need expect no consideration from him.

To us it seems that Count Keyserling is a man who deserves to be taken to our Jewish hearts. For one thing he is a great scholar and brilliant philosopher. Again, he is a lover of Jews—he says so—and he is entitled to credence. And lastly he has one quality which very few other men are known to possess: he loves his mother-in-law.

INDUCTING JULES VERNE INTO THE FOLD

Recently the literary world celebrated the 100th anniversary of the birth of Jules Verne, the great French yarn spinner. And this made a grand occasion for someone to induct him retroactively into the Jewish fold.

Accordingly we now have a crop of stories seeking to establish the Jewishness of Verne. The most persistent one is that Verne was a Russian Jewish boy by the name of Joel Alshewitz. He was reared in a Jewish atmosphere. At the age of eighteen he left his native town of Plozk, and set out in quest of adventures. He visited many European centres and finally landed in Paris. At first he was employed in the stock exchange. Later he took to story writing. Meeting with success in this field, he changed his name, broke with his family and became a full-fledged French celebrity.

Verne will make an interesting addition to the large list of post-mortem Jews.

WHAT HAPPENED IN PHILADELPHIA

In the issue of March 12th of the Jewish Daily Bulletin (a publication noted for its reliability and impartiality), we read a communication from its Philadelphia correspondent which throws light on the inter-denominational good-will movements which are now in vogue in America.

In Philadelphia the movement started last year. The usual technique was employed there—exchange of pulpits, dinners, etc. The idea seemed to take hold of the popular fancy and appeared destined to meet with success. This year the experiment was repeated on a larger scale and for a time made great headway. The millennium was thought to be near.

EXEMPTING CHARITABLE CONTRIBUTIONS

By RABBI FERDINAND M. ISSERMAN

Last week a delegation representing thirty leading charitable organizations of the Province of Ontario waited on the Attorney-General, the Honourable Colonel W. H. Price, to urge upon him the enactment of legislation to exempt from municipal income tax charitable contributions up to 15 per cent. of a taxpayer's income. All charitable institutions would benefit by such legislation. Those to whom an unkind destiny has forced into the role of community schnorrers (beggars) know how frequently individuals resent paying income tax on charitable contributions. Most of our charitable institutions do work which would have to be done by the state if they were to suspend operation. A gift to a hospital is in a way a gift to the state. It is a self-imposed tax. It does seem unfair to levy a tax on what amounts to a gift to the state. Those interested in social work feel that such an exemption would facilitate the raising of funds. There are no Canadian precedents for such a law, but in the United States such an exemption has proved very valuable. We hope Colonel Price will be able to influence his government to approve the proposed legislation.

THE HEBREW LIBERAL LEAGUE

Our contemporary the Daily Hebrew Journal recently carried a news item referring to a meeting of the Hebrew Liberal League which was to be addressed by a liberal leader. We have no objection to the meetings of liberal leagues, nor to the propaganda which any political party may desire to disseminate. On the contrary, discussion of political principles and policies away from the frenzy and hysteria of political campaigns is to be encouraged. It is a form of education for our citizenry which is as desirable as it is essential. But we know of no valid reason why a political league should affix to itself any religious or sectarian label. The fields of religion and politics are divergent. Not that religion may not have a message for politics, but that politics must in no way become sectarian. While an insistence for greater loyalty to the fundamentals of religion, not theological fundamentals but spiritual and ethical—is to be welcomed, any attempt to make politics sectarian is to be deplored and denounced. We know of no reason why a Baptist as a Baptist should organize a political party. We see no need for a Baptist Conservative Club or a Presbyterian Liberal League. Just as we see no need for a Presbyterian Liberal League, we see no need for a Hebrew Liberal League. There is nothing that such a league can contribute to the life of our community. It may only contribute something to the pockets of politicians. The Jews as Jews have no specific political status. Jews are found in all the political parties. There are Jews who are liberals, there are Jews who are conservatives and there are Jews who are laborites. A Jew's political affiliations are not determined by his religion. Economic, social and intellectual factors may determine a man's political interest. The Jews who are conservatives can affiliate with the regular conservative associations and the Jews who are liberals can affiliate with

Editorial

After a while, however, rumblings of discontent began to be heard among the various denominations. We transcribe verbatim from the "Bulletin" as to what eventually happened:

"The climax, however, came the other day when at a stormy meeting of the Presbytery of Philadelphia the following resolutions were adopted:

"Whereas, it has become a matter of public knowledge that Presbyterian ministers of this Presbytery have lent their names to a movement for fellowship among various religions including Shintoism, Buddhism, Unitarianism, Ethical Culture, Judaism, Mohammedanism and other non-Christian religions;

"Be it resolved that the Presbytery of Philadelphia go on record as being unalterably opposed to any fellowship that tends to name Christianity as one of many equally good religions; that we reaffirm our belief that Christianity is a revelation, and so is the full and absolute religion; that the Presbytery hereby enjoins upon its ministers and elders the duty of abstaining from any participation in such meetings and movements."

The Rev. Dr. William P. Fulton, clerk of the Presbytery made the following statement regarding the resolution:

"The Presbytery of Philadelphia has positively prohibited all clergymen within its jurisdiction from fellow-worshipping with non-Christian religions. If they do they must face the consequences. Christianity cannot accept any other religion as an equal."

"Simultaneously with this declaration there appeared a letter written by a Christian clergyman in one of the neighbourhood newspapers condemning in no uncertain terms the Christian participation in the Interdenominational Dinner. At this writing the incident is causing no little discussion in the ranks of the Philadelphia clergy, with the usual echo among some of the laity. Some of the rabbis, though preferring not to be quoted, are not altogether taken aback by this action of the Presbytery of Philadelphia. They are of the belief that the Jews should have taken a similar stand long ago.

"What this will lead to, whether these meetings will be abandoned or not; how other parts of the country will react—it is too early to predict."

We offer no comments. A.B.B.

Rabbi Isserman's Editorial

the regular liberal associations. We are completely out of sympathy with the Hebrew Liberal League.

We regret very much the injection of religion or sectarianism in politics. We want men elected to office because of their capacities and not because of their religious loyalties. We Jews have been particularly insistent that church and state should be separate, and should, therefore, be the last to inject a religious issue in political affairs. The Hebrew Liberal League was illly conceived. We hope soon to be able to record its demise.

To the non-Jewish liberal leaders, who may be interested in this league, may we say that many Jews resent the foundation of a Hebrew Liberal League. We resent seeing Judaism exploited for political purposes. If the liberal party wishes to win adherents among Jews, it will not succeed by such tactics. It will only alienate and offend. We object to a Hebrew Liberal League as we would object to a Hebrew Conservative or Labour League. We cannot see how the label Hebrew can have any relation to political principles.

The Hebrew Liberal League will not benefit the liberal party. It may, however, benefit a small group of politicians who are exploiting not only their own religion but also the credulity of the ambitious non-Jewish politicians. Away with religion from politics! Last year Louis Marshall, the distinguished Jewish leader and constitutional lawyer, was asked to sponsor a Hebrew Republican League in New York. His reply was a vigorous attack on the formation of such a league. We reprinted part of it in the CANADIAN JEWISH REVIEW. As he denounced a Hebrew Republican League in New York, so do we denounce a Hebrew Liberal League in Toronto. As we go to press we hear that there is a Hebrew Conservative Association. Whatever applies to the Hebrew Liberal League applies to the Hebrew Conservative Association. Toronto Jewry would be better off without both.

COMMENTARIES

By Rabbi Harry J. Stern, of Montreal
Associate Contributing Editor

WE WERE INSPIRED

We were privileged to listen to an address on present-day Palestine by the distinguished editor and publicist of Jerusalem—Ittamar Ben Avi, and we liked the frankness, the honesty, of the man. So many who speak about Palestine seem to colour the facts; sugar-coat conditions. This is not the case with Ittamar. Above all he is not a Zionist propagandist. He is a Judean! He is thus able to inspire a love for Palestine in the hearts of those who come in contact with him. His message on behalf of Eretz Yisroel is so refreshing and stimulating that even those who may be somewhat indifferent to the Palestinian experiment will be inspired to work for the cause. The Zionists of Canada merit congratulations for bringing Ittamar Ben Avi to Montreal. We need more men of such high calibre and culture in the movement for the rehabilitation of Palestine.

THE JEWISH BLIND SOCIETY

Montreal boasts of a new organization—The Jewish Blind Society. A group of community leaders, anxious to make the Jewish blind economically independent, have brought into existence this organization. The blind have now their own establishment where they manufacture brooms. Here is an opportunity for the Jews of Montreal to make the blind self-sustaining. When you purchase brooms, ask for those manufactured by the Jewish Blind! And if you can't get this brand of broom from your grocer—you can order same by telephoning to the institution (69 Nazareth Street, Main 4119). Will you help the blind?

BAR-MITZVAH JUDAISM—A DANGER

To the student of Jewish life—the present-day "Bar-Mitzvah Show"—causes despondency. It lacks spirituality and consecration. And why in the world do rabbis traffic with it? It endangers Judaism. Months, perhaps a year, before the lad reaches thirteen, bar-mitzvah experts are "hired" to train the boy to chant the Haf-Torah. And weeks before the great day arrives—most decorative invitations are mailed—newspaper announcements are printed. The word is passed around, "come, come to the bar-mitzvah in the Shul." Then in the synagogue proper the excited lad is stationed before the audience and like a phonograph, he mechanically pronounces the portion from the prophets. Then the rabbi gives him advice—how to be a loyal Jew and with it he flatters a little the parents for making "sacrifices" in educating the boy in "Jewish thought." It usually happens that the boy does not even know the translation of the prophetic portion which he chants. He may not even know how to read Hebrew fluently. Congratulations follow! The audience agrees "that the boy is a wonder." Then a huge reception follows. The boy is enriched by thousands of presents. He feels he is "the big cheese." As a result he soon discloses the fact to his parents that he is grown up and it's time to quit the Hebrew or Religious School. So he graduates from Judaism. . . .

We believe that rabbis ought to call a halt to such a fiasco! The cult of bar-mitzvah is endangering Judaism. Bar-mitzvah ought to be a beginning to Jewish learning and not an end. We shall never have an educated Jewish laity if we permit the bar-mitzvah business to make an end of the boy's Jewish education. Parents and teachers must, above all, minimize—"The Bar-Mitzvah Display." It isn't Jewish. It isn't good for Jewish youth. Above all it lacks spirituality!

EMOTIONAL ANTI-SEMITISM

Thomas Masaryk, president of the Republic of Czechoslovak and champion of liberal ideas, pointed out succinctly how anti-Semitism is a result of a feeling instilled in early childhood. Here is a remarkable statement by a great Christian soul: "When I was a child I feared the Jews, believing that they used Christian blood for Passover. This fear was the result of the frightful ritual murder tales which were told to me by my mother. Since, hearing these tales I always avoided Jews and Jewish children. Jewish children sought my company in play as I understood German, but I always ran away from them. It was only when I attended Real-schule that I reconciled myself somewhat to the presence of Jews. I recall distinctly an incident which made an indelible impression upon my youthful mind and which gave me a feeling of shame. It was on a school excursion when we Christian children played together, that I noticed the one Jewish pupil in our class lonely and ostracized. I saw him hiding behind a wall praying fervently. During my life I have always taken care that no injustice is done to the Jews."

At the United Palestine Campaign for one-half million dollars which will be inaugurated in Montreal Sunday evening, March 18, with a banquet for 400 at the Mount Royal Hotel, Mrs. Archibald Silverman, vice-president of the Zionist and Hadassah organizations of America; Dr. Shmarya Levin and Judge William E. Lewis, of Philadelphia, National Chairman of the United Palestine Appeal for the United States of America, will be speakers. Montreal's objective is $250,000. Itamar Ben Avi, who is a Hebrew publicist and editor, of Jerusalem, was the guest of Lionel Coviensky, president Mount Royal Lodge, Bnai Brith, at luncheon at the Montreal Reform Club. Other guests were: Rabbi J. L. Zlotnik, Horace R. Cohen, Joseph Guttman, Dr. Louis S. Eidinger, Harry H. Livinson and Dr. Lyon P. Strean. Ben Avi and Alderman Nathan Phillips, of Toronto, were guests of Lionel Coviensky at the Montefiore Club Saturday, March 10.

At a smoker given at a hotel by the United Palestine Campaign Committee for the canvassers in the campaign, Ben Avi was the speaker. A. Levin and R. A. Darwin were joint-chairmen. Over 300 people were present.

Ben Avi, as one who has lived in Palestine for over forty years and who has an intimate knowledge of the country, gave a comprehensive review of what has been done in Palestine and where its future lay. It was significant, said Itamar Ben Avi, that while 10 years ago the soldiers who were left in Palestine desired to settle there but found it impossible to do so, to-day organized societies and groups of Englishmen were settling in Palestine.

Mr. Avi traced the growth of Judaeon colonies in Palestine and pointed out that the most necessary thing now was the acquisition of land and that Zionists cannot afford to buy land so slowly, if Palestine is to be built up by Judaeon settlers. The Plain of Sharon, said Mr. Avi, was the finest land in Palestine and the fifty thousand dunams of land which Canadian Jewry had bought for the Jewish nation, was adjacent to important tracts, and would be the important centre of Palestine in the future. Mr. Avi made his hearers understand the drama now being played in the history of the Jews, and the significance Zion had come to hold for world Jewry. He traced the historic importance of ancient Judaea and drew a parallel between the development of Greece as a cultural and spiritual centre for Greeks the world over and Palestine as a spiritual and cultural home of Jews the world over.

A. J. Freiman, president of the Zionist Organization of Canada, moved the vote of thanks to Mr. Ben Avi. Mrs. Freiman, president of the Hadassah Organization of Canada, seconded the vote of thanks and pledged her support and that of Canadian Hadassah in the forthcoming campaign. Mrs. A. J. Freiman, together with A. Levin and R. A. Darwin, are the Dominion chairmen of this campaign. Louis Fitch, K.C., introduced Mr. Ben Avi.

"Sometimes when people censure me,
I tell them without rancour
That for what it cost me to be free
I might have had an anchor."

When Justice Arthur S. Tompkins withdrew from the Metropolitan Mason's Country Club because it excluded Jews from membership it was more than Rabbi Stephen S. Wise could stand and he delivered a sermon on "Jewish Snobs, Turncoats and Cowards" at the Free Synagogue in New York. An event of this kind was something he had waited fifty-four years for, he said, and now he is waiting fifty-four years more for a Jew to resign from a Jewish club "because there are as many mean, contemptible snobs in them as there are in the Christian organizations." Rabbi Wise quoted from the application blank of a fashionable Jewish club which inquired about the birthplace of the father, mother, wife, father-in-law, mother-in-law and grandparents of the applicant. The quest for so much information about a would-be member moved Dr. Wise to conclude that "they don't want any one who comes from stock born in Eastern Europe," and he attacked the class of Jews which discriminates against another class of Jews when it comes to club membership.

The impudence of that application blank really should bring forth a yelp of anger from all who rear proud heads in the face of taunts about East Europeans. Even the blood of a man of Litvack descent on the grandmother's side only should stir and simmer a little if not actually come to a boil. For such exhaustive inquiry into a man's past to determine the per cent. of East European in his veins is the extreme in ingratitude to a very serviceable portion of the Jewish population on this continent.

It will be remembered that during the war the least said about a German gloss the better. It was no longer a gloss but a decided taint. That was the period in history when the day was saved by club Jews who could walk across the grenitz easily from the birthplaces of their imagination into the countries where they really came from. It being no great shakes to be German many a club member by scratching his head hard could trace his ancestry to a remote village in Russia or Poland without more than a momentary wince hoping it would not be held against him if better days should come. Such members in the need of the moment could supply a quaint motif from the Russian steppes that went with Russian hangings and samovars while the hefty beer seidels and other Teutonic emblems could be retired to the basement or buried in the dark of the night.

In those times no one wanted to be German and silence fell on the subject of forbears who came from that vast, splendid and thickly-populated, if vaguely outlined, territory known as "near Königsberg." It was even more circumspect to have come from Galicia whence it was not stylish to come. The East European Jews weren't the only ones to change their names in those hysterical days. Ironically enough it fell to their lot to be the American front of many a club in which they had for years been the paying background. (It's the Litvack who pays and pays and pays.) Meanwhile the real, dyed-in-the-wool Germans, Austrians and others (aristocrats by accident of birth in happy countries), dug themselves in for the duration of the war under an avalanche of Victory and Liberty bonds, all exposed except their heads, of course.

The War—ah, yes, the War, the Great Leveller. Where are its promised blessings? It was to have been the war to end wars and it couldn't even make a Palischer Yid as good as a Deitchke for keeps after promising permanent relief. Now it has come to pass that even the upstart members of upstart fraternities have the chutspah to question the country of origin of a would-be member's sisters and his brothers and his cousins and his aunts. There is again trouble in the Jewish Balkans of the elegant clubs. Lord! what a life. Feuds, feuds, feuds. Sisterhood presidents remind their members that they all belong to one great, big, happy family. Quick—page the goodwill committee! There are still some members of these great, big, happy families who don't want to be introduced to other members or play mah-jongg with them either, so there.

And, a Gentile having withdrawn from a country club because Jews are excluded, Rabbi Wise is waiting a mere fifty-four years for a Jew to resign from a Jewish club because Jews are excluded. There's an optimist for you.

At the Young People's Society of Shaar Hashomayim, Michael Hirsch read a paper on "A Winter's Cruise in Summer Seas," an account of a trip from Montreal to Cuba. Miss Sessenwein sang. Rabbi Medola De Sola lectured on "Jewish Ethics." Miss Libbie Vineberg recited. Lazarus Cohen gave the vote of thanks seconded by M. Abe Freedman. The following canvassed the city for the Matzoz Fund: A. M. Vineberg, chairman; Rabbi S. Sprince, Rabbi Hirsch Cohen, Rev. M. B. Lauterman, Rev. M. Hakperin, R. H. Blumenthal and F. Ship. Five Great Hazards of Every Life

Interesting statements in annual report of Metropolitan Life—
Company Breaks Life Insurance Record in Canada in 1927 Accomplishments

Those who have made a study of the subject state that there are five great hazards facing every human being, hazards that assume graver proportions when they directly affect that social unit called the family. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company summarizes them in its annual report, indicating what a life insurance company can do, should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting them. In their order they are: Death, which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for; Accident, always sudden and often causing lessened earning power; Sickness, which may cause want as well as suffering; Dependent Old Age, which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible; and Unemployment, which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed. It is shown that almost every financial requirement can now be met by insurance—annuities for old age, protection in case of death, accident or sickness. Only unemployment insurance is missing, and that only because legislation permitting it has so far been refused. The day is sure to come when every family can and will plan to meet every one of the five great hazards. But even to-day, if they will plan ahead, workers can provide for both present and future needs, so as to enjoy in years of retirement, not merely bare existence, but real comfort. According to the figures just issued, Metropolitan created in 1927 the greatest record ever made in life insurance in Canada. Insurance issued, revived and increased amounted to $194,948,664. This figure comprised $91,544,576 Ordinary, $76,417,698 Industrial and $26,986,399 Group, being an increase over 1926 of $26,086,641. Insurance in force in Canada at the end of 1927 was $769,114,229, an increase over 1926 of $64,202,874, and being covered by 2,467,977 policies in force in the Dominion, a gain over last year of 118,073. It is interesting to note that Metropolitan investments in Canada have increased over fifteen millions in the past twelve months, reaching the figure of $153,194,442. Since it has operated in Canada Metropolitan has invested here, or spent in the Dominion millions of dollars more than have been received in premiums on Canadian business. Policyholders in Canada were paid $11,560,367 in 1927, which was $1,481,360 more than in 1926. Metropolitan have issued a Home Budget Booklet which tells how much should be spent for necessities—food, housing, clothing, fuel—and how much should be laid aside for protection. Any reader may obtain a copy, without cost, by writing to Canadian Head Offices, in Ottawa and mentioning this paper.

Bidgood

A year ago I advised the purchase of Kirkland Lake at 87 cents a share. Since that time, Kirkland Lake has sold as high as $3.06. The same keen study of market conditions and intrinsic values now prompts me to suggest that your careful consideration be given to the immediate purchase of BIDGOOD. Values that have been encountered in the raise from the 400-foot level at Bidgood grades with the best ores of the Kirkland Lake camp, and there is every reason to believe that these values will persist at depth. Those who will join with me in assuming that such is the case and buy Bidgood at to-day's low price of 75 cents a share, will profit as did those who purchased Kirkland Lake.

Sherritt-Gordon

This property has developed into the discovery of a century. Drilling in the central section showed average values around $13.00 across a width of 16 feet and over a length of nearly 7,000 feet. Drills on the westerly part disclose ore higher in grade than the central section. Surface work has not only disclosed greater width of ore, but the average value was found to be much higher, being 20 to 40 per cent. above the original estimates. It is my opinion that SHERRITT-GORDON will sell at double to-day's figure over a comparatively short hold.

May we have the pleasure of serving you?

The laundry that serves tea

We find that a short rest period, with a cup of tea all round, during the morning and again in the afternoon, makes for better work—so at ten o'clock and four the gong sounds and the power is shut off for ten minutes. Our employees benefit and your laundry is better, which, after all, is our constant objective. Have you enquired about our five different services? You will find one to exactly suit your needs. These include the super-speed "overnight" wash. Our young lady will explain to you. Phone to-day.

The 5 Great Hazards

WHILE presenting our Annual Statement showing Assets of $2,388,647,636 — 2 Billion, 388 Million Dollars — representing savings and investments of 25 million people in the United States and Canada, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company desires to make clear what a life insurance company can do, what it should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting what have been called the five great hazards of life:

which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for.

Accident

always sudden and often causing lessened earning power.

Sickness

which may cause want as well as suffering.

Dependent Old Age

which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible.

Unemployment

which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed.

Annuities for old age, protection in case of death, accident or sickness — almost every financial requirement can now be met by insurance. Only one problem is still unsolved — unemployment insurance and that only because legislation permitting it has so far been refused. The day must come when every family can and will plan to meet every one of the five great hazards so that none of its members will ever face the need of charity.

The United States and Canada pay higher wages than other countries. Nearly all their workers earn enough to provide for both present and future needs. If they will but plan ahead they may have in their years of retirement, not merely bare existence, but real comfort.

Thousands of those interested in life insurance have asked how the family income should be expended. Send for our Home Budget Booklet which tells how much should be spent for necessities — food, housing, clothing, fuel — and how much should be laid aside for protection. It will be mailed free.
